ALF. J. McLAUGHLIN GETS BAD SHEQUE.

He is Out Just Fifty-Five Dollars and Eighty Cents in Consequence.

On Tuesday morning last a young man named Arthur Calkins walked into the clothing store of A. J. McLaughlin, and proceeded to select his winter's supply of heavy clothing. He picked out a nice bear skin coat, and after getting a cut in the price said he would take it.

He tendered Mr. McLaughlin a cheque for $55.80, signed by J. N. Longstreet, the well known Valley City farmer. Mr. McLaughlin deducted the price of the coat from the cheque and handed Calkins back the change, which amounted to $35.80. When the bank opened the cheque was presented for payment, but the teller promptly turned down as a forgery.

It was a forgery and a very coarse one. Calkins had been working for Mr. Longstreet and when settling up had received a cheque for $15.00, balance due. This did not seem enough to the recipient, and he got a pen and changed the fifteen to fifty-five, and cashed it as aforesaid. The change in the cheque was most evident. While Longstreet's writing was with a very pale colored ink, Calkin's changes were made with a heavy pen and jet black ink. As the teller at the Merchants Bank remarked, "You didn't have to look at it, you could hear it coming in the door."

Corp. C. A. Martin was put on the case on Saturday, and in a very short time had located his man. He drove out to the power house on the Blindman, where Calkins was working, and arrested him. He was brought up before the magistrates on Monday morning and sent up for trial. He will probably be tried at the session of the Supreme Court now on at Red Deer.

Arthur Calkins is only nineteen years of age and previously bore a good reputation.

When asked how he came to commit the crime, he said he did not know what got into him. He just took a sudden notion to get rich quick.

Soon merchants will be a little more careful what cheques they cash.

Saturday evening's south bound express narrowly escaped a bad wreck. While running near Pon-tiac the engine struck a place where a rail had been lifted by the section gang. Strange to say, the engine itself kept right on over the gap and got on the rail on the other side. Three or four of the other cars went off however, and delayed the train for a few hours. Fortunately no one was hurt.

The section men were putting in a switch at the point where the accident occurred, and as it was nearly train time a flag man was sent back to stop the express. The man went back with the flag, but when the train hove in view he forgot to flag it, and in consequence there occurred what might have been a disastrous accident.

Hon. W. H. Cushing Denies Rumor that He Was Leaving Govt.

"A man in my position never knows when something may happen, but so far as I am personally aware, there is no basis for the rumor," was the significant reply of Hon. W. H. Cushing, minister of public works for Alberta, when asked as to the truth of the report that he was likely to leave the government.

Asked regarding the legislative proposition of Alberta for the coming session of the legislature, Mr. Cushing said the bill of the session will be to prove a finished plan of municipal government. There will be no railway bills, as we have already gone as far in that regard as we care to go at present.

"There is only one thing in Alberta on the grain export question, and that mind agrees with that of British Columbia. The people of Alberta are unanimous in the opinion that the way to send their grain to the British market is via British Columbia ports." He said: "The Hudson's Bay route is of the future, the British Columbia route is for the present. Another point is that the British Columbia route is always available, winter and summer alike. The Hudson's Bay route will not be able to compete in that regard. Every fall when navigation closes on the Great Lakes, the price of wheat drops about five cents, and the Pacific route is then very attractive. Assuming that the Hudson's Bay route comes into commercial use in the next few years, I do not see how it will successfully compete with the Pacific route, via the Panama Canal, so far as Alberta is concerned."

Helping the Hospital.

The Editor Western Globe.

Sir: The commendable efforts which are now being made by the merchants and businessmen of the town to augment the building fund of the new hospital should surely influence others to do their share in the good work. To tend the sick and needy is not a question of inclination or caprice but an obligation: laid upon all professed Christians by Christ himself. And while the giving of spare cash is most laudable still there are other avenues of assistance open, which do not appear to be used as thoroughly as they might be. Red Deer, Ponoka, and even Lacombe have pointed a course which we in Lacombe might worthily follow. Concerts, Dances, Carnivals and Plays are all legitimate and at this time of the year are always welcome. Surely there are a sufficient number of persons in Lacombe capable and willing enough to perform one of the many charming comedies which can be produced at so little expense? In advocating an entertainment of this character I am not unmindful of the difficulties ahead. They are many. But they disappear like snow before the sun where each one thinks only of the object in view and gives not heed to the idiosyncrasies of others. Amateur theatricals call for hard work, self restraint, and no little ability, but the congenial rehearsal, the transition to another self, if only for a brief space and above all, the satisfaction of supporting a worthy object are adequate compensation. I shall be very pleased to hear of anyone who may be disposed to assist in this way, as early as possible.

I am, etc.,
H. THORNTON BOLT.

Short Course in Agriculture.

George Harcourt, deputy minister of agriculture, stated last week that during the winter two schools of agriculture will be provided, instead of one hitherto plan. This will be welcome news for all those who attended the school held here last year, as it was considered the best possible training for farmers and their sons. It is too early yet to make any definite announcement as to these courses, but one will be held in Lacombe and the other at some point in the South.

If you don't know the Pipe Man you ought to—McLeas is his name.

The British Market.

That the boasted tariff reform policy if adopted in Great Britain would not be of any benefit to Canadian trade in Great Britain, is pointed out by the Toronto Star in a recent editorial. Any policy that increases the price of food products is a hindrance to trade and will have the effect of decreasing the amount purchased.

On this subject the Star says: "Tariff reformers in England show a tendency to thrust into the background the question of preference for the colonies. The tendency is increasing, because the movement for preferential trade was the mother of the movement for protection. The readjustment of the food duties was put forward by Mr. Chamberlain as the essential part of his proposal; and a strong effort was made to line up the colonies in a demand for preferential treatment in the British market."

"The conscience of the London Morning Post, a leading champion of protection seems to be troubled by the notion of the protectionist child forgetting its mother. It would be dishonest to talk of strengthening the Empire by tariff reform, says the Post, unless the food duties were readjusted. Yet it perceives that conditions have changed. The vast growth of national expenditures has rendered necessary a large increase in taxation. Consequently, the proposed food duties were readjusted. It says, not only must the need of revenue, but brings the proposed system of preference into line with that of the Dominion, which maintains by a similar device the principle of drawing revenue from British imports."

"We in Canada would have no ground for complaint if Great Britain treated our imports as we treat hers. But our position in the British market would probably be damaged if free trade were abolished, and imports restricted in the manner proposed by the Post."

"It is not likely that the Canadian farmer would receive much benefit from the preference over his foreign rivals. Without any preference Canada is making the place of the United States as an exporter of wheat, because in Canada production is keeping a long way ahead of home consumption, while in the United States home consumption has almost kept pace with production. In a free open market, Canada has everything to hope and nothing to fear. But she has something to fear from tariff reform, which is intended to diminish the volume of food imports. Free trade in Great Britain means the largest possible market for our own foods. The people of the United Kingdom have as good a right to adopt protection as we have. But it does seem strange that some Canadians have been clamoring for the destruction of the great free market from which Canada has so much to hope."

CHILDREN CREMATED IN INNISFAIR FIRE.

Rheta Arnell, Aged 17, and John Arnell, Aged 12, Burned to Death.

A fire which raged the Revolver House to the ground last Wednesday night, burned to death two children, Rheta Arnell, aged 17, and John Arnell, aged 12, daughter and son of the proprietor of the hotel, Wm. Arnell.

The parents and four other children with a number of guests had narrow escapes. One of the boarders, named Munroe, had a leg broken, jumping from the second story of the building.

The girl who perished could have saved her life by jumping, as she went to a window for that purpose, but she learned that her little brother had not been rescued and went back to his room to get him, and both were cremated.

Mrs. Arnell saved the lives of three of her children by throwing the latter from the second story to members of the fire brigade.

The bakery of Thos. White, adjoining the Revolver House, was burned to the ground, and the residence of Thos. Kirkham was badly scorched. The buildings were all of frame construction though the bakery was brick veneered.

The fire's origin is not known. The blaze was discovered shortly before midnight and before the firemen could reach the scene the hotel was a mass of flames. The firemen, under Chief Constantine, did splendid work, not only in rescuing the inmates of the hotel, but also in preventing the blaze from spreading. Only their strenuous efforts prevented a disastrous conflagration.

An investigation to ascertain the cause of the fire will be held.

The parents of the dead children are prostrated by the unfortunate occurrence and the deepest sympathy is manifested for them. Rheta, the girl who perished, was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnell and was one of the most popular of the younger people of the village. Her courageous nature may be estimated from the fact that she willingly sacrificed her own life to save that of her brother.

Education of City and Country Boys.

The editor of the Bowmanville Statesman, who is a leading Ontario journalist and whose paper is one of the best and most widely quoted weekly journals of that province, recently handed out a statement regarding the educational practices of Ontario which applies to a greater or less extent to all parts of Anglo-Saxondom.

He said: "It may surprise you boys on the farms for us to tell you candidly that many boys who attend school in the towns and spend a few terms in the High School are no better qualified for the ordinary duties of life of useful activity than are country boys, who learn what can be taught by a really practical teacher in a rural public school. One serious obstacle in the way of a country boy securing a thorough, useful and practical business education is the narrowly policy pursued by some school trustees in engaging any sort of teacher so long as the salary is small. Ten years spent in teaching school and forty-five years of observation have convinced us that the very best teacher is not too good for the girls and boys who are in training for possibly fifty years of useful work after leaving school."

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by all dealers.

Robinson, the Sudbury Band, who was acquitted of murder but given 25 years in Kingston for his other crimes, is pleased with the outcome. He says in effect he would rather go to the penitentiary for 50 years than be hanged for 50 seconds. Yet some people tell us the dread of imprisonment is a more effective deterrent to criminals than that of the gallows.

Pipe repairs of all kinds at the Athletic Cigar Store & Billiard Hall. F. McLeas, the Pipe Man.

I journeyed to the country fair to view the products of the farm; I marveled at the pumpkin there, and carotene longer than your arm; and happiness was over all, there was no sign of war that carotene, until a man, with lots of gall, got up to make a few remarks. Oh, I was born for joy and gloom, to sing as blithely as the birds! My life, that should be sunny, is darkened by a cloud of words, and when my prospects seem most fair, and trouble for its hours embarks, some Windy Jim is always there to rise and make a few remarks.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health—There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

Synopsis of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 96, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Land Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situated. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:
(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.
(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet the requirement.
(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

His monthly notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, or intention to apply for patent.

"Calgary wants more male teachers," says a local newspaper. Jesse, the female public school teachers don't last long in this country. They usually start little kindergartens of their own after they have been a few years in the West.

Our old townsman, W. E. Lord, is teaching the merchants of Red Deer how to advertise right. It takes two whole pages of The Advertiser to tell Mr. Lord's story to the residents of that district. Advertising pays.

W. H. Waddell's sale turned out well. All the live stock and other chattels were disposed of and high prices were realized. Paisley, the live stock auctioneer, cried the sale.

Application was made last week in the Supreme Court chambers, Regina, to Chief Justice Wetmore by A. L. Gordon, acting for the Saskatchewan Law Society, to suspend E. W. Harris of Arcola, from practicing, by reason of default in payment of money received by him on behalf of the Crown Lumber and Hardware Company.

This week we received from an old friend "Fighting" Joe Martin, a card that reads: Joseph Martin, K. C., Canadian Barrister and Solicitor, Practising Before the Privy Council, 218 Caxton House, Westminster, S. W., London, England." Canadian politics were evidently too strenuous for him.

Up-to-date only forty-seven railways have decided to make a divisional point at Red Deer.

The peaceful quiet which makes Red Deer popular with her residents, got on the nerves of the Lacombe contingent last week, and a sigh of relief went up when the judge told the jury men to go back to Lacombe. A couple of farmers were seen on the streets during our stay—one man reports having seen three, but he was seen taking a glass of soda shortly before reporting the discovery. The hustle of Lacombe seems good now.

On November 21st will be held the anniversary services of the Methodist Church. Rev. H. E. Gordon, B. A., of Strathcona, will preach morning and evening. Special offerings towards the building fund. On Tuesday 23rd, Chicken Supper and Concert.

James Williams, of Virden, was on trial for manslaughter at the assizes at Brandon last week. Williams is a Christian Scientist, and attempted to cure his daughter of pneumonia by having a couple alleged healers cure the malady with large doses of prayer. This did not work and the girl died. The jury convicted him on the charge. The judge scored the "Scientists" severely, and left no doubt in the minds of those present in court that if any more deaths, caused by their foolishness, occurred, the charge would be of a more serious nature. This form of ignorance was going to be kept down.

The Emundson family, three of whom died of diphtheria last week, is under strict quarantine, and no further deaths are expected.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child; for they are mild and gentle in their effect and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by all dealers.

Mrs. Nell Jensen, of Warrad, Minn., and five children lost their lives while Mr. Jensen will probably die as a result of injuries received in a fire here at six o'clock Wednesday, the result of a gasoline explosion. Jensen was starting a fire with gasoline. His wife was upstairs sick with a week old baby and those with three other children had no chance to escape.

Two boys, two and four years old, sons of George Halik, Berlin, Ont., were burned to death in their home last week and a third child, six years old, seriously burned. The mother left the youngsters alone in the house while visiting a neighbor, and they started playing with matches.

S. W. Paisley has secured the commission to sell two carloads of painted imported Clydesdale stallions at Lacombe on Tuesday, November 23rd. These animals are direct from Scotland and are the best of the breed ever brought to Alberta.

Write will be issued against all parties indebted to the undersigned, unless their accounts are paid before the 30th November. This is final notice. John Finchem.

The regular monthly meeting of the Anglican Young People's Society was held on Tuesday last in Mobley's Hall. This was the first meeting of the current year and the attendance was most gratifying and angers well for the new president, Mr. T. F. Roberts. Progressive chairs were engaged in at seven tables, while others found enjoyment in Pitt, Whist, etc. When the adjournment was called for refreshments, two gentlemen tied for first prize with 6 points each and five ladies were equal with five points each. Songs by Miss Roberts and Mr. Harold Young brought a most successful evening to a close. While these meetings are held under the auspices of the Anglican Church, membership is not confined to that body, and other denominationalists are cordially invited. Meetings are held in Mobley's Hall on the 2nd Tuesday in each month throughout the year.

The Auxiliary Steam Electric plant is under construction and being rushed with all speed. The plant will consist of 190 horse power engine and boiler, together with the necessary pumps, heater, piping and stack. The engine is arranged with an outboard bearing to direct connect to a 100 K. W. dynamo, but at present will be belted to the 60 K. W. Crocker Wheeler machine the company had in use at the flour mill. The building will be built of brick and has a store room, engine room, boiler room and small office. The foundations will be of concrete for the building as well as engine and dynamo. The substation transformers will be moved and installed in the engine and dynamo room. The engine and boiler are expected between the 1st and 15th of December and will be rushed into place as quickly as possible on arrival and when once installed a steady and reliable service will be assured.

Don't forget the chicken supper to be held in the club rooms of the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, Nov. 23rd. Concert in the church after supper.

H. W. Lloyd, of Alir, lost his dwelling and furniture by fire last week. He had the property partially insured. W. S. Mooney was down on Friday to adjust the fire loss.

J. A. Fairley, license inspector for this district, has been transferred to Calgary. His successor has not yet been named.

The Lacombe Brick, Tile and Cement Co. has had a most successful season, the output going over half a million, which is all disposed of, and as many more could have been sold. The demand for brick is increasing every year, and this summer the make of our local yard was in great demand. The color and quality of the Lacombe brick is very much in its favor, and any contractors who have used this brand are very loth to use any other. Next year it is the intention of the company to instal new machinery, an artificial dryer being very necessary. The manager says that the installation of a dryer would more than double the capacity of the present plant, at a very little more expense. This firm supplied 250,000 brick to the Ponoka Asylum. This is one of Lacombe's infant industries, and it should grow to a good paying proposition.

A small pocket book containing one dollar was picked up in Puffer's butcher shop on Friday. Owner can get same from Harold Slater.

The jury men from Lacombe called to attend at the session of the Supreme Court which met at Red Deer last week, all returned home on Wednesday evening, their services not being required. It is said that when the prisoners looked over the twenty-four stalwarts from Lacombe they decided to be tried by the judge. Red Deer put on a busy appearance for one day, Mark Hanna remarking that never in the history of the town had he seen so many good looking men on the streets of that burg.

The sale of live stock and farm implements of P. Bowen, advertised for the 11th inst., has been postponed until Saturday, November 20, at 10 o'clock. A large number of fine cows and horses and all the farm implements will be sold positively without reserve. Col. Jos. Marshall will conduct the sale. This is a chance to secure some of the best cows in Alberta. P. Bowen's farm is the N. E. 9-43-2, 44 miles N. E. of Rimby.

Acclamation for C. B. Halpin.

Carly, Geo. Trawford, W. P. Haines, J. W. Rushton, E. Zimmerman, R. Forsyth, C. W. Carlson. Harris, Trawford and Carly will die.

Twenty-Three Cows or Sixty, Which.

Some of the September records received from members of the cow testing associations show further remarkable variations in different sections of Ontario and Quebec. It is the exception in the Ontario associations to find less than 600 lb. milk or 29 lb. butterfat as an average yield for the thirty days. In Quebec associations the average yields are almost all lower though one or two are well up, even to 700 lb. milk and 26 lb. fat. One association in Quebec has a total production from 23 cows of 17,800 lb. milk and 775 lb. fat; while in another Quebec association just a little less than that is the total production of 60 cows: the 60 cows average less than 300 lb. milk. Twenty-three cows in one case, sixty in the other, which kind of cow would one rather keep? What glowing possibilities are indicated here! Most likely the sixty cows could be made to give better yields if fed better. The selection of the best individuals as revealed by the records, and their mating with good bulls of decided dairy descent would give certain results, better ones in every way, without such glaring differences as in this case where the yield of two fairly good cows is more than the total yield of five poor ones.

472 Miners Perish.

Spring Valley, Ill., Nov. 14.—One of the most appalling disasters in the history of mining operations occurred here on Saturday when through the burning of the Cherry mine 472 miners lost their lives.

All Saturday night and all day today rescue parties were at work, but the stifling smoke prevented them from reaching the lower levels and as a result the bodies of the entombed men rest in a veritable cauldron and many will likely be consumed before they can be reached.

Every family in Cherry is afflicted and hundreds more in this city, Peru, and La Salle have lost relatives and friends. This is the second explosion which has occurred in the Cherry mine, the first being three years ago, when twenty men lost their lives.

TOWN OF LACOMBE.

Tax Reminders—Take Notice.

Clause No. (5) of the Town Ordinance says:

"Collect unless otherwise directed by resolution of the Council all taxes on or before the 30th day of November in each and every year."

Also the Municipal Ordinance says:

"In case any person neglects to pay his taxes for thirty days after such demand as aforesaid, the Secretary-Treasurer may, by himself or his agent, levy the same with costs, by distress of the goods and chattels of the person who ought to pay the same, or of any goods or chattels in his possession wherever the same may be found within the municipality, or, of any goods or chattels found on the premises, the property of, or in the possession of any other occupant of the premises and may impound the same on the premises where distrained, and on claim of property, lien or privilege shall be available to prevent the sale or the payment of the taxes and costs out of the proceeds of the sale thereof; but any such distress shall be made on or before the 30th day of December in each year." C.O., c. 70, s. 147.

T. CLARK KING,

Sec. Treas., Town of Lacombe.
Dated this 17th day of November, A.D. 1909.

The Fire Limit Bylaw.

It is the opinion of many of our citizens that the fire limit bylaw at present in force in Lacombe is altogether too stringent for us at the present time. It is regarding the building up of the main portion of the town, as the property owners do not feel able to construct solid brick or stone buildings. At least veneered buildings should be allowed, and if a change allowing this was made we have reason to believe that several good buildings would be put up in the near future to replace the unsightly frame shacks in the main portion of the town. The fire limit in Lacombe is as large as the first class fire limit in the City of Calgary. Veneered buildings are allowed in Calgary when built in accordance with the views of the fire inspector.

Another thing, the bylaw as it now stands is taken only as a joke, apparently. Several buildings have been erected within the prohibited limits which do not in the least conform to the provisions of the bylaw, and others are being erected every week. It has got to the stage now where people do not even think it necessary to take out a permit to build structures of any kind.

Application was made at a meeting of the council last week for permission to remove the Lundy building from its present location near the Merchants Bank of Canada to the premises occupied by the owner on Nanton St., where it would be used as a warehouse. The council having no jurisdiction in the matter has left it to the fire inspector. He will not take the responsibility of giving a permit for removal, and then the matter now stands. This building was built within the fire limits under a permit, and how the owners can be stopped from moving a building which must be conforming to the bylaw, from one part of the fire limit to another, is more than we can understand. If the building is of such construction that it is not to be within the fire limits a permit should not have been issued for its erection.

The council should take some action in this matter. A test case to find if the bylaw will hold water is in order. If the council come to the conclusion that they will not go to court on the bylaw it should be immediately repealed. It is not good business to have bylaws on the books which may cause trouble any day.

New Blend of Wheat.

Commissioner F. Macleod, of the Saskatchewan board of trade, has for some time been in correspondence with Professor R. H. Biffen, department of agriculture, Cambridge university, England, with regard to certain experiments in wheat crossing upon which the professor has, for many years, been patiently engaged.

As is well known the milling and baking qualities of Canadian red wheats are unequalled. On the other hand the yielding qualities of English varieties are considerably heavier. Professor Biffen's aim has been to cross these two wheats so that the desirable characteristics of both might be retained in the hybrid. He has now succeeded in this, as the following extract from a letter just received by Mr. Schlanders will indicate:

"The results of crossing your fine wheats with our English varieties look to be very satisfactory. Flax with us does not crop abundantly well to come into a general cultivation, though on some soils it's true, we do get a forty bushel crop from it."

"So far, the hybrids are cropping well wherever we have tried them, and the milling and baking trials are giving excellent results. I have been having a number tested on the large scale by independent bakers, and they all agree that the flour equals Manitoba hard, No. 1."

Mr. Schlanders had suggested to Professor Biffen that a red wheats which would not readily shell out when ripe would be a veritable godsend to Western Canada; in other words, that a "wind-proof" red wheats would be hailed here as a great boon, for, as is well known, the rapidity of ripening towards the last, in the case of this season, coupled with high winds and short days of harvest help, resulted in serious loss through shelling out. Some competent authorities do not hesitate to assert that sufficient grain shelled out this season to seed down next year's crop. In connection with the above suggestion the professor replies:

"Your problem does not seem a particularly difficult one to solve; but, it would probably require to be done locally. Our hybrids would not do it for we deliberately work for late ripening. Flax comes in too early for us."

Professor Biffen's cross of red flax and English wheat might easily prove of great interest to western Canada. And it is satisfactory to know upon such eminent authority that the problem of a "wind-proof" flax does not seem a particularly difficult one to solve, although it would probably have to be solved locally.

Differences in Sentences.

Toronto Mail and Empire:—An unusual amount of discussion of verdicts and sentences has been precipitated in Ontario of late by a couple of cases in which neither the verdict nor the sentences seem to have met public opinion. Then there was a third case in which a woman was found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged with the result that half the people of the province seem to have written the minister of justice asking a commutation of the sentence. It is not a good sign when popular opinion distrusts jury verdicts and judicial sentences. We are in a much better position when the people are saying: "Oh, the jury heard the evidence and the judge saw the witnesses; and we did neither." In a lesser degree, it is as important that the findings of the courts should satisfy the public as that they should do individual justice.

DOM. PARLIAMENT
OPENED NOV. 11

Governor-General in Speech From Throne Comments on Great Progress of Canada.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—The parliament was opened today by the following speech from the throne by His Excellency, the Governor-General:

"Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate, Gentlemen of the House of Commons."

"In again meeting you at a season most convenient for the dispatch of business, it is with great pleasure that I congratulate you on the prosperous condition of the country. The present year, which is now rapidly drawing to a close, has been a period of steady and progressive growth. Immigration has poured into the new settlements of the north and of the west in a copious and well ordered stream, drawn from the best elements of the British Isles, the United States and continental Europe."

"Trade and Commerce have made rapid advances in all directions. The revenue has almost completely regained what it had lost in the recent period of depression. Most remarkable has been the rapid recovery from the financial embarrassment which for a short time was the cause of anxiety amongst business men. In nearly every branch of business there has been a revival of activity which gives assurance of continued progress and prosperity."

"Two members of my government attended the Imperial conference called by His Majesty's government on the question of defence. A plan was adopted after consultation with the admiralty for the organization of a Canadian naval service on the lines of the resolution of the House of Commons on the 29th of March last."

"The papers will be immediately brought down and a bill introduced accordingly."

"The new convention between His Majesty and the president of the French republic respecting the commercial relations between France and Canada, having been approved by the French legislative chambers, you will also be asked to confirm it."

"The construction of the transcontinental railway has made a substantial advance during the year. The western division has been extended 66 miles beyond Edmonton, completing a total distance of 981 miles west of Winnipeg. Contracts have been let for 399 miles in the mountain divisions; good progress was made on this work. The eastern division is now open for traffic from Winnipeg to Lake Superior Junction, and thence by the G. T. P. branch to the lake. The whole of the work between Winnipeg and Edmonton is now under contract."

"The board of engineers entrusted with the preparing of plans for the reconstruction of the Quebec bridge, has sufficiently advanced its work to permit of tenders being ready for the structure."

"Explanatory surveys for a railway from the western wheat fields to Hudson's Bay were pushed on energetically during the whole of last summer. It is hoped that a report of the operations will be placed before you at an early date."

"In order to improve the facilities already afforded the public by the government railways and to enhance their value as part of the great transportation system of Canada, a bill will be submitted to you for the purpose of enabling the minister of railways, on the recommendation of the government railways managing board and to lease any line or lines connecting you with the Intercolonial Railway."

"An order will be submitted to you for the purpose of rendering more effective the present legislation respecting combinations which unduly enhance prices."

"Bills will also be introduced respecting banks and banking, insurance, navigable waters, and other matters."

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons, the accounts of the last year will be laid before you. The estimates for the coming fiscal year will be submitted for your approval at an early date."

"Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate; Gentlemen of the House of Commons—I pray the Almighty Lord that He may guide and bless your deliberations, and that they may bear fruit in a further increase of our country's prosperity and well-being."

DRY FARMING METHODS PRACTISED IN ALBERTA.

George Harcourt before Congress in Billings, Montana, Gives the Following Address.

George Harcourt, B.S.A., deputy minister of agriculture, delivered the following address on "The Importance of Dry Farming to Alberta," at the fourth annual Dry Farming Congress which was held at Billings, Montana. He told the gathering of nearly 3,000 delegates from all over the Western States that he counted it a great pleasure to have the privilege of addressing the congress of those interested in advanced thought and practice in soil culture. He brought greetings from one of the youngest provinces of the great Dominion to the north—Alberta, the last west of Canada. Mr. Harcourt's address was as follows:

"Lying just immediately north of your great Republic our country is bound together by many strong and enduring ties, while the ties of relationship, formed through the many thousands of Canadians who have sought their fortunes in the land of the Stars and Stripes and the many returning thousands of your citizens who are now yearly seeking homes in the 'Last West' of the land of the Maple Leaf, are strong yet I think you will agree with me that gatherings such as this do very much to foster the bonds of good fellowship and mutual understanding. No body of intelligent men, such as I see gathered here, can meet and discuss day after day questions of great importance without learning to respect and honor each other as well as form life-long friendships.

"It is hard to understand why the Canadian prairie should have lain so long before their value was recognized. It can only be accounted for on the ground that an all-wise Providence was holding it in reserve for an expansion and for the land-hungry of the over-crowded countries of today. At any rate it has remained for the present generation to develop and appreciate the agricultural value of the immense extent of prairie land stretching for nearly a thousand miles from the Red River Valley to the Rocky Mountains. It is true it is a land of comparatively light rainfall and it is properly classed as a semi-arid district. It is equally true, however, that today the desert visions which the term semi-arid calls up have long lost their power to frighten the intelligent settler. On the contrary it means a delightful climate with ample rainfall during the growing season which if properly conserved by scientific soil culture spells successful crops.

"It has taken time to solve the first principles and arrive at general conclusions concerning soil moisture on the Canadian prairie. The rainfall varies from ten (10) inches in years of light rainfall to as high as nearly thirty (30) inches in years of heavy rain. Even these amounts vary with differences in local situations. The mean average for Alberta for a period of thirteen years is 17.47 inches. As over 60 per cent. of the annual precipitation falls during the months of May, June, and July, crop failures need not be looked for if proper methods of tillage are followed. Much of the discouragement met with in the early settlement of the country was due to the ignorance of the settler concerning soil moisture and the relation it bore to successful crop raising. The same is equally true of the average new settler today, but the accumulation of knowledge on the subject is now such that no man need remain long in ignorance. The early settlers found that after a few years of continuous crop growing the yields were greatly diminished. They naturally concluded that the land required a rest and resorted to summer fallowing where the trouble was one of moisture rather than fertility. In many instances where the summer fallowing was done unknowingly in such a way as to conserve moisture the yields were satisfactory. In other cases where it had been done to conserve moisture the results were disappointing through not doing the right thing at the right time. In other cases again particularly on land containing a very large amount of humus, summer fallowing resulted in the loss of the crop the following year through excessive and prolonged growth. This is particularly true of the Edmonton district in central Alberta. In spite of adverse results, however, the farmer's inherent faith in the effectiveness of the summer fallow as a soil renovator was so strong that the practice of allowing the land to lie fallow every few years became general. It was followed blindly without definite knowledge of why it was done. It was a common practice in older countries and it was presumed that it was necessary here—besides were not the Jews of old commanded to let the land rest every seventh year? So the work went on in an unthinking way.

Gradually the idea grew that the soil needed humus and consequently many farmers allowed a great crop of weeds to run all the moisture out of the soil before they plowed it down in the mistaken idea that they were adding vegetable matter to the soil and thus improving it. Others set out to use the summer fallow as a cleaning method. Where wheat was grown after wheat continued to grow for years it was soon found that the weeds gained great headway and that a properly worked summer fallow with its store of moisture was a good place to germinate and thus destroy many successive crops of weed seeds.

In this way our knowledge of the uses of a summer fallow has steadily widened; but it remained for the experimental stations to give our increasing knowledge the right direction in the evolution it was undergoing. Particular credit is due to Mr. Angus McKay, the superintendent of the Experimental Farm at Indian Head, Saskatchewan, for his correct thinking and consequent experimental work on the summer fallow. Realizing from his meteorological records that the rainfall was much lower than he had expected he adopted the plan of summer fallowing every alternate year, thus accumulating the rainfall of one year to add to that of the year the crop was growing. In this way his yields of grain have steadily increased. He was able to secure up to 50 bushels of wheat per acre and 75 to 120 bushels of oats, while his neighbors were obtaining only from 15 to 25 bushels of wheat and 25 to 40 of oats. Adding together their yields for both years he was still ahead of them and had only one crop to handle. His plan of summer fallowing alternate years has been fairly well followed only a great majority of farmers think one year in three often enough to follow.

"This plan of summer fallowing has been of inestimable value to Western Canada, but it is weak in that too many farmers have loose ideas as to what constitutes a properly worked fallow to at all adequately conserve the moisture. The fact is that few of them have got the right idea about conserving the moisture, the necessity for doing so or the importance of it; neither have they realized the inherent value of a properly worked fallow for weed destruction. The fact is that too many go through the process of summer fallowing without knowing what they are doing or why they are doing it.

"The farmers in Southern Alberta made a great step in advance in their conception and understanding of this moisture question when they came to study dry farming methods. The Government of Alberta was successful in securing the services of Mr. H. W. Campbell, of Lincoln, Nebraska, to hold a series of meetings in the province. This he has done two years in succession. He talks on the importance of soil moisture and his advocacy of the sub-surface packer as a means of securing a greater retention of moisture, have been the means of putting farmers in possession of a more intelligent idea of what is the right thing to do. So much so is this true that I have heard farmers say that farming was no longer an uncertainty in the extreme south of the Province provided proper attention were paid to securing a store of moisture in the soil. This passing from an uncertainty to a certainty means that instead of the farmer being only temporary stopping places until their owners had made a little money they are now becoming permanent owners with all the comforts that the home loving and home making Anglo-Saxon can obtain. To further extend the knowledge obtainable of dry farming methods the government have arranged with Mr. H. W. Campbell to establish a demonstration station in the province at Medicine Hat where his work in scientific soil culture may serve as a permanent object lesson of what can be accomplished and a constant incentive to excel.

Our knowledge then of the proper methods of soil culture has steadily advanced from the haphazard methods of the poorly worked summer fallow to scientific tillage, done in a certain manner with a definite object in view. The writer has long held that the conservation of moisture was the most important question that the farmers of Alberta had to study. Once this is mastered crop rotation, destruction of noxious weeds and kindred questions all fall into line of their own accord. Once the principles of soil culture as they apply to semi-arid countries are grasped and their application understood the returns appear to be limited only by the faithfulness with which they are applied. Under an indifferent application of these principles Alberta farmers have had no trouble in obtaining forty and fifty bushels of wheat both spring and winter and even over sixty bushels have been obtained. With more intelligent cultivation the Alberta dry farmer always has the goal of still higher yields before him.

What I have said so far has particular reference to the extreme southern portion of the Province which is almost wholly open prairie. Central Alberta is a park country and the soil contains a very large amount of humus. Owing to the ameliorating influence on the climate of the trees the soil is much more retentive of moisture and consequently the necessity of following closely the principles of dry farming are not so necessary. While there is practically no appreciable difference in rainfall the farmers of Central Alberta will find it to their advantage to pay considerable attention to dry farming principles.

In closing let me wish the Dry Farming Congress God speed. It has already spread the gospel of scientific soil culture through many states and countries and it is receiving careful consideration at the hands of farmers in humid districts. It is not that the principles are new or different from those many of us have studied under humid conditions, but the dry farmer has pushed the application of them a step or two further toward their logical conclusion. In the pursuit of the attainment of greater perfection in the application of the principles of dry farming and in a deeper study of these principles I wish the members of this Congress every success.

Penoka News.

Mrs. J. H. Salton received the sad news of the death of her father which took place at his farm, near Red Deer, on Monday evening of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Salton attended the funeral on Wednesday.

The death took place Friday the 5th, of John McKeelcher, of Earlville. He had been ailing for some months back, and was moved to Red Deer hospital a few days previous to his death. Mr. McKeelcher has resided in the Earlville district for the past five years and was highly respected. So far as is known he has no relatives in the country. Previous to coming to Alberta he lived in Iowa.

Mrs. C. F. Tuttle has certainly the sympathy of her many friends in the regrettable accident which befel her last week. It appears that she was bidding her son good-bye at the gate of her home, and slipping on the walk, fell and broke her leg near the thigh. For a person of her age—85 years—the accident of course is serious, but we are pleased to state that she is doing as well as can be expected, and is wonderfully cheerful under her misfortune.

A Popular Fallacy.

The generally accepted belief that a person is useful in proportion as he is busy is contradicted by a writer who says: "I have a dog that is loaded up with fleas. In the summer time when the fleas are plenty, that is the busiest dog I ever saw; when he isn't biting at the flea, he's snapping at the flea. However, he has a minute to spare, but when he is busiest he is the least account for practical purposes. And there is a young fellow in my neighborhood who has a Waterbury watch and he smokes cigarettes. When he isn't winding his watch he is lighting a cigarette. He is a mighty busy young man, but he isn't worth two hoops in a water barrel."

The English Cattle Market

To the Lacombe Globe.

A day (Sept. 7th, '09) in the Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, Cattle Market.

Three years ago last spring, a cattle buyer from this district visited Lacombe, and saw our fat cattle, and he said we were not getting but half their English value. The cost, he said, for shipment would be about $36.50 per head. He saw steers that were sold for $46.35 which he said were worth $91.00. Being here I thought I would have a look in at the autumn or fall market which is the worst time for the growers, butchers know they are just off the grass, hence what we call low prices. We will see. I had visited friends of forty-five years ago, butchers of three generations, still in the same shop, and arranged to accompany my friend James (of the third generation) a keen, shrewd buyer of cattle, to the cattle market. There were 800 offered, Irish included, which you could tell by being much smaller. English and Scotch were much alike, generally graded Shorthorns, with a pen or two of Ayrshires, and the like of bulls which were going at 30 a lb. less than the steers. That's a big price for bulls is it not? No the shipowners like them, they boil better for the engineers, (sailors are gone the jury tarts are no more) and drossen, and good meat too. Yes that's worth $75, he's beef to the hocks. We were now amongst the good steers and heifers and my friend bought seven. Why James you are giving as much for heifers as steers. Well, why not, they are tenderer, finer bone, less fat, all around more profitable to both butcher and consumer. Do you know James the butchers and buyers give us a 50 per pound less for heifers than steers. Well you're a fool for taking it; it's better meat, sweeter and tenderer, all around the heifer is by far the best. It is not so large but a good seller. Small beef is the best; the market is in our favor this morning. I bought good cattle today at 12c. on hoof. Did you ever have our Canadian cattle here. Oh yes, and felt it was and sure (quick) taken up, that's about two years ago (since) when James was in dead earnest the Northumberland rolled out and I wish we had him. What did that, (pointing to a good steer) cost? Twenty pound ten, $38.50. Big price James! No, he'll kill all right you'll see, he scales over eleven cwt. (112 lb. is cwt.). They either buy that way or by the stone, 14 lbs. Come on, he's going to see about last week's hides. He got 12 1/2c per lb. for them. Good price James. Yes the markets all good today.

The market was in the buyer's favor. They are a jolly set of fellows, but keen to a point. We next went to the settling office and to see the sovereigns rolling around did one's eyes good. When in New York I often visited the wholesale dead meat market, Chicago killed bird quarters $9.50 per hundred to $11.00. I could not understand why Jersey feed should bring $2.00 more than western beef. I have been all over this district, the Tyne-side, as good a cattle district as there is in England. I have been to local shows at Hexham, Alston and Alendale, Northumberland, but found nothing better in grades than we have in the Lacombe and Stettler districts. But they have some fine pure bred Shorthorns and Galloways, in the latter they are away ahead of anything I have seen in the West.

Yours truly,
P. MAKEPEACE

A BEAUTIFUL PERFORMANCE.

Shakespeare's Comedy to Receive Elaborate Production Here.

No announcement for some time has caused the wide-spread interest that has greeted that of Manager C. P. Walker, who will present "As You Like It" in Lacombe, Friday, November 19. Described as Shakespeare's most charming comedy, and probably the greatest read and most widely quoted of all the works of the immortal poet, its stage presentation always arouses keen interest among not only theatre-goers, but all who enjoy good literature.

As the world views the struggles of the modern poet and playwright, it is forced to stand in breathless awe before the memory of William Shakespeare, the inspired genius whose equal will never be known. In one play, "As You Like It," the student may find a quotation suitable to almost any occasion and couched in such beautiful terms that it rolls from the tongue like the ripple of a moonbeam.

Not only does this comedy appeal to the literary minded, but as a comedy it interests the lover of the humorous and its story holds the attention of those desiring dramatic situations and suspense. "As You Like It" is a play for the teacher, for the student; a play for the philosopher and the amusement seeker. It pleases the ear of the poet and delights the eye of the artist. It is the nearest play to the ideal in drama that was ever constructed.

Cochrane Rancher Hanged Himself.

Leaving a note addressed to his parents, in which he said he was a sinner who had broken every commandment in the Bible, and asking God's forgiveness, Frank Bradfield, a prosperous rancher of Cochrane, committed suicide by hanging some time between last Sunday and last Thursday. Bradfield owned a homestead and half a section in the Locheng district, northeast of Cochrane, and had $1,000 in cash. He was a bachelor. A week ago yesterday he called at the home of a man named Bean, two miles from his place and had dinner with the family. He appeared to be sick. That is the last he was seen alive. On Thursday a man named Elwood having some business to transact with him went to his cabin. The door was partly open, and looking in, Elwood was horrified to see the corpse of his acquaintance dangling from a rope attached to a 2x4 scantling. An over-turned chair beside him told plainly the manner in which he had succeeded in ending his life. The rope had stretched so much, however, that the man's toes touched the floor. On a table were the note already mentioned; a notebook showing that he had $1,000 on deposit in the Cochrane bank; a patent to his homestead, and a Bible. It is believed that the man committed suicide while temporarily insane. He was known to his neighbors as erratic but thrifty. The fact that he has a brother in the asylum at Brandon makes it appear that insanity runs in the family. His parents live in England, but just where has not yet been learned. In addition to the other property mentioned, he owned some horses and farming machinery.

The Great Growth of Alberta.

The Province of Alberta has made the greatest proportionate growth of any part of Canada during the past four years.

Not only has it made the greatest growth in the rural sections, but its city growth has been phenomenal. It boasts of the two largest cities in the Middle West—Calgary and Edmonton—and in Lethbridge it has a third which is rapidly forging to the front of the minor cities.

It is in a position to lead the sister provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan in that it is possessed of coal and minerals in large quantities in many parts of the province in addition to an illimitable grain-producing area. The railways under construction are opening up new territory every working day, and there is every reason to believe that next year will see an era of industrial and agricultural advancement not before known in the province.

The inducements offered by Alberta are widening every day and the increase in the number of settlers who have come to the province during the past summer has been gratifying, both in numbers and in quality.

Inside of the next five years Alberta will stand abreast of most of the older provinces in wealth and population.

I have sold the Lacombe Furniture store to E. Titworth and expect to leave for a warmer climate by Dec. 1st. Mr. Titworth's good judgment caused him to retain his big store. This is what I can say for Charlie, there is no better all around furniture man and a squarer dealer in Alberta. With Mr. Raymond's assistance and Mr. Titworth's business ability this store should become a top notcher. I wish for this store every success and I thank everybody for their good words and patronage they gave me.

250 Good Stories.

The Youth's Companion abounds in stirring stories of adventure and heroism. One may describe an escape from accidental peril, another a strange encounter with wild creatures—man or beast.

Many of these stories are true as facts, and only disguised as to names and places. A score or more of such stories will be published during 1910 in addition to nearly 200 others—250 good stories in all, and no two alike. And this is not counting the serial stories, which it is believed will be considered by old Companion readers as the best The Companion has ever published.

Every new Canadian subscriber will find it of special advantage to send at once the $2.00 for the new 1910 Volume. Not only does he get the beautiful "Venetian" Calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold, but all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909 from the time the subscription is received.
